MEASURES

Top 10 military health IT programs

Total military health line-of-business (LOB) fiscal year (FY) 2010 spending equals $1.4 billion, or 4 percent of the entire DoD information technology budget.

Rank	Investment Title	Program Description	FY 2010 ($M)
1	Tri-Service Infrastructure Management Program	TIMPO provides overarching information technology communication and computing infrastructure and support services for all MHS centrally managed automated information systems.	$276.823
2	Armed Forces Health Longitudinal Technology Application	AHLTA integrates patient data from different times, providers, and sites for all service members, retirees and family members. AHLTA will be a life-long medical record of all illnesses, injuries, exposure and vaccines of the patient.	$161.646
3	Navy Medicine IT infrastructure	Navy Medical Information Resources Management Division (NMIRMDo) is a local information resources management division operation.	$71.271
4	Composite Health Care System	CHCS is the military's legacy computerized provider order entry system. CHCS is used to order and document lab tests, radiology exams, perform prescription transactions and document outpatient appointments and other care administered.	$63.363
5	MHS CIO Management Operations	MHS CIO Management Operations includes the operational requirements for Joint Medical Information Systems (JMIS), portfolio management and HIPAA	$62.833
6	Defense Medical Logistics Standard Support	DMLSS provides integrated supply chain and life cycle management for pharmaceuticals, medical supplies, equipment, health facilities, and services. DMLSS enables medical logistics support to the force health protection mission for the MHS.	$62.552
7	Executive Information/Decision Support	EI/DS receives and stores data from MHS systems, processes those data through a variety of business rules, and makes the data available to managers, clinicians, and analysts for managing the business of health care.	$55.712
8	Army Medical CIO Management Operation	Army Medical Chief Information Officer's Management Operations (AMCMO) is the Army Medical CIO's IT management operations expenses.	$46.419
9	Medical Information Technology Support & Operations	MITSO captures expenses for support activities not elsewhere classified, i.e. contracts and salaries for operations support staff and help desks and service centers.	$36.649
10	Client and Peripheral (Hardware/Software) Support	CPS provides interoperable and integrated standard office automation desktop/server hardware and software. Includes equipment refresh, maintenance, and centrally funded software.	$33.182
	Total: Top 10 Military Health IT Program		$870.450

Data on this page is provided by Suss Consulting Inc., Jenkintown, Pa.